

AGENDA

FLORIDA GULF COAST UNIVERSITY

Raymond L. Lutgert, founder of The Lutgert Companies, was the visionary Naples developer behind Park Shore, the first planned-unit development in the state. Lutgert was also a community leader, philanthropist, and award-winning sculptor whose works are on display throughout the area, including at the Village Shops on Venetian Bay and the Northern Trust building. Over at Florida Gulf Coast University, Lutgert's 24-foot-tall Human Race greets visitors near the campus entrance at the Lutgert College of Business.

FGCU, in fact, boasts numerous outdoor sculptures—12 total—that reflect their locations within the institution. Furthermore, the university consistently augments its collection through the Art in State Buildings program. (fgcu.edu)

DOWNTOWN Naples

The couple behind Hoffmann Family of Companies—a Naples real estate and business juggernaut—are art lovers. They're sharing this love with the community through the donation of a dozen original works to Naples' downtown area.

Jim Rennert, a New York City-based sculptor, created many of the downtown installations. Known for his life-size and monumental works, Rennert frequently plays with motifs associated with corporate success, such as men in suits. Others are by Ruth Bloch, an Israeli artist whose figural sculptures have been displayed around the world.

In addition to the Hoffmann donations, there are many more works that have graced the scene for a while, as well as several located within building interiors. For an in-depth list, visit hoffmannfamilyofcompanies.com/naples-sculpture-walk
